SOURCE A former Romanian diplomat.

During his present trip to Europe General Nicolae Radescu was received in audience by King Mihai, reportedly for the third time, to discuss the political situation among Romanian emigres. Upon being received by the King, Radescu heatedly asked that the former monarch order General Constantin Petre-Lazar, his aide, to leave the room, charging that Petre-Lazar supported the position of the Romanian political parties against the non-party personalities. The King replied that Radescu's charge was without foundation and refused to dismiss Petre-Lazar. Radescu thereupon requested that Mihai reconsider his instructions relative to the formation of a Romanian Coordination Committee. The King replied that it was not his custom to change orders and refused to consider Radescu's request. At the close of the audience, Radescu again made "offensive remarks" concerning Petre-Lazar and the King was compelled to intervene in order to avert a scene.
